BRYAN-BELMONT LETTERS

Will Revive Bitter Feeling Between Party Factions.

Predicted That It May Cause the National Democrats to Name a Ticket in 1900.

Washington, March 21.—The Star has the following on the Bryan-Belmont controversy:

"It is very generally believed that the effect of the correspondence between W. J. Bryan and Perry Belmont will be to make permanent the separation of the leaders of the Palmer and Buckner Democracy from the official Democratic party, of which Mr. Bryan is the most conspicuous figure. All the bitter feelings that existed between these two elements during the campaign of 1896 will, it is believed, be revived by Mr. Bryan's latest communication to Mr. Belmont and the latter's reply. "It was the intention of Mr. Belmont, Mr. Whitney, Gov. Flower and the great number of men of that class, formerly high in the council of the old Democratic party, who bolted the Chicago convention and formed a new party, to go back into the Democratic party and support its candidate in 1900, it is not regarded as at all probable that they will do so after this warning from Mr. Bryan of the sort of reception they might expect.

"There is some difference of opinion among Chicago platform Democrats as to the wisdom of Mr. Bryan's course, but most of them applaud it, while agreeing that it is not calculated to make friends for the party among gold Democrats. It is pretty generally agreed that, while many of the rank and file of the gold Democrats will probably support the candidates of the Democratic party in 1900, the leading men of that element, who have money and could afford to materially assist the party, will abandon any idea they may have entertained of going back into the party.

"Until the development of this episode it was well understood that the new party organized by the bolters in 1896 under the name of the 'National Democratic party' would not hold a nominating convention, but would, without ostentation, go out of existence.

"Now the question arises whether this purpose to quietly disband will be adhered to. It is believed that most of the sincere gold men of that party will join themselves directly with the Republican party, but some will be embarrassed by their anti-expansion and free-trade ideas, and will have to seek a home elsewhere. These hoped to be able to so influence the regular Democratic party as to convert it into a fairly comfortable abiding place for themselves, but this hope is destroyed by the feeling disclosed in Mr. Bryan's letter.

It is therefore suggested that Mr. Belmont, Mr. Whitney and a number of others of great influence and wealth will begin at once to restore the 'National Democratic party' to activity and to make preparations to hold a National Convention in 1900, such as was held at Indianapolis in 1896, and to put a ticket in the field."

Miss Braddie Stodghill, of Madisonville, visited relatives here yesterday.

HON. JOHN SHERMAN BETTER

The Early Report of His Death Followed by Good News from the Sick Statesman.

Washington, March 22.—Seldom has a report of death been more completely stirred by conflicting emotions than it was yesterday by the announcement, first, of the death of Hon. John Sherman, and then by the contradiction of the report which came a few hours later, the one giving a relief which was as marked as the sorrow produced by the other.

Contradiction of the first report did not arrive until 8:30 o'clock. It came to the press in the shape of a positive statement from Santiago, made in the knowledge that the report of the senator's death had been circulated. This dispatch was immediately given a wide circulation in the city as it was possible for it to receive at that hour.

Secretary Hay was placed in possession of a copy of the dispatch, as was also Mr. Sherman's family.

The police authorities also received a telegram from the sheriff at Painesville saying that the child had been identified, and that his supposed abductors, a woman named Ingersoll and a man named Collins, were under arrest.

THE OREGON AT MANILA

The Famous Battleship is Now with Admiral Dewey's Fleet Fit For Any Duty.

THE AMERICAN FORCE REORGANIZED.

Two Divisions of Three Brigades Each Have Been Organized, Including the Troops Present and to Arrive—They are Evidently Preparing for an Advance.

Washington, March 19.—The navy department has been advised of the arrival at Manila of the battleship Oregon.

The following is the cablegram received from Admiral Dewey:

"Manila, March 18.—Secretary of the Navy, Washington: The Oregon and the Iris arrived to-day. The Oregon is in fit condition for any duty.

"DEWEY."

American Force Reorganized.

Manila, March 18, 10:30 a. m.—The entire American force has been reorganized, two divisions of three brigades each being formed. Gen. Lawton has assumed command of the first, which consists of the Washington, North Dakota and California volunteers, under Gen. King; six troops of the Fourth cavalry, the Fourteenth regulars, and the Idaho volunteers, and a battalion of the Iowa troops, under Gen. Owenshire; the Third and Twenty-second regular infantry, and the Oregon infantry, under Gen. Wheaton, and Byers and Hawthorn's light batteries.

Gen. MacArthur's Division.

Gen. MacArthur's division consists of two batteries of the Third artillery, the Kansas and Montana volunteers, under Gen. H. G. Otis; the Colorado, Nebraska and South Dakota regiments and six companies of the Pennsylvania volunteers under Gen. Hale; the Fourth and Seventeenth regulars, the Minnesota and Wyoming volunteers, and the Utah artillery.

A separate brigade will be assigned to provost guard duty, consisting of the Twentieth and eight companies of the Twenty-third regular infantry.

Gen. Anderson's Division.

Gen. Anderson, now in command of the first division of the Eighth army corps, will return to the United States, in accordance with the order of January 25.

An attack was made by the rebels, Friday, upon the battery at Loma church, but were repulsed by the Pennsylvania volunteers with heavy loss.

A gunboat with a company of the Twenty-third regulars on board, is now on the lake attacking the small town. She was last heard of off Morong and Santa Cruz.

FILIPINOS AGAIN REPULSED.

Driven Back Fifteen Miles with Heavy Losses by Gen. Wheaton's Victorious Men.

Manila, March 20.—Some of the rebels were expelled from Cavite and the small towns in the vicinity of Pasig combined forces, and Saturday night—already abated, attacked a company of the Washington volunteers, a detached post at Taguig, about a mile and a half southeast of Pasig.

Gen. Wheaton immediately reinforced the Americans with two companies each of the Washington and the Oregon regiments. The post held the enemy in check, and the fire of the re-inforcing companies repulsed them, driving them across to an island formed by the estuary. They were thus in front of the Twenty-second regulars.

The Rebels Fought Desperately.

On discovering that they were outgunned, the rebels fought desperately, aided materially by the jungle and the darkness, but they were completely routed, with heavy loss, after two hours' fighting. The Americans lost two killed and 50 wounded, among the latter being Lieut. Frank Jones.

Determined to Punish the Enemy.

Gen. Wheaton determined to punish the natives, and at daybreak yesterday his brigade started in the following order: The Sixth artillery holding the extreme right, the Oregon volunteers leading the center, the Washington regiment keeping to the edge of the lake, and the Twenty-second regulars occupying the right of the line, which swept the whole country along the lake, and by a southerly direction, toward Gen. Owenshire's position.

The line extended over two miles of country, rough and covered with thick jungle, advanced 11 miles. The enemy fled, the last of them being taken yesterday evening at Pasig. At Pasig, the Americans got within 1,200 yards of them.

Troops Returned Exhausted.

The troops returned to Pasig last night, exhausted by the hard work under a hot sun. The Oregon regiment had one man killed and four wounded, and the Twenty-second regulars one wounded. According to the official reports no fewer than 200 Filipinos were killed.

The First Woman to Die in the Electric Chair in New York State.

New York, March 21.—Mrs. Martha Place was executed at Sing Sing prison yesterday. She was the first woman to die in the electric chair in the state of New York, and she went to her death quietly. Her death was instantaneous but two shocks were given. State Electrician Davis threw down the lever at exactly 11:01 a. m. The voltage of the current was 1,700, and it was then gradually diminished to 200 voltage, which was continued for 56 seconds. Dr. Irvine, the physician of the prison examined the woman and then ordered a second shock. That was the same as the first in power, and continued for the same length of time. The second shock has always been administered at Sing Sing.

Mrs. Place murdered her step-daughter, Ida M. Place, a mere girl, on February 7, 1898.

THE TROUBLESOME NANGIGOS.

The Lawless Secret Society Responsible for the Attacks on the Havana Police.

Havana, March 21.—There seems to be concerted action among the Nangigos, the secret society of the lawless class here, to attack the police upon every possible occasion. All the trouble of the last two nights occurred in the outlying wards, which are inhabited by the worst classes.

The city of Havana is much exercised over the rioting, and the bravery and determination shown by the police is much commended, with the result that the force is rapidly regaining the prestige which it had lost among the better element.

The police station at Cerro was attacked Sunday afternoon by a number of colored men, a band of men from the city slaughter house. The police repelled the attack and the rioters left three men badly wounded when the rioters. Upon this occasion no policeman was hurt.

DEATH HOLDS A CARNIVAL

Sudden Destruction by Fire of the Windsor Hotel in New York City.

LARGE NUMBERS OF GUESTS PERISH.

The Windows Were Crowded with People Witnessing the St. Patrick's Day Parade. Many of Whom Jumped from Windows and Roofs to Instant Death.

New York, March 18.—Flames, which originated from the lighting of a lace curtain, burst forth from the second floor of the Windsor hotel, at Forty-seventh street and Fifth avenue, shortly after three o'clock yesterday afternoon, just as the St. Patrick's day parade was passing the building, and in a few moments they had reached the roof and enveloped the entire Fifth avenue and Forty-second street fronts of the hotel. Ten minutes later the flames were roaring through the interior of the hotel, and all escape by means of stairways and elevators was cut off.

There was the wildest scene of excitement within and without the building. Hundreds of guests and employees were in the hotel when the fire broke out, and for many of them to escape was simply impossible. Probably from 10 to 15 lives were lost within a half hour, and 30 or 40 persons were injured in jumping from the windows and in rushing through the roaring flames in the corridors and on the stairways.

Died at Near-by Residences.

Many who were injured died later at near-by residences and hospitals and others who made wild leaps to the street sidewalks were so badly injured that they are still hovering between life and death. It may be 24 hours and more before the complete list of fatalities becomes known, and it will be longer than that before it can be ascertained definitely how many charred bodies are in the mass of fallen masonry that marks the spot where the hotel stood.

The Entire Structure in Ruins.

The flames could not be checked, and in two hours from the time the fire broke out, the entire structure was in ruins, and the streets on three sides of the building were filled with debris from fallen walls and chimneys, while the streams of water being poured upon the interior of the ruins had no other effect than to fill the air with clouds of scalding steam making it impossible for anyone to approach near enough to search for the bodies of those who perished.

THURSDAY, MARCH 23, 1899.

PROF. J. J. GLENN, of Madisonville, has bought the Guthrie Courier and will take charge early in April. We welcome Editor Glenn back into the Kentucky newspaper field with hopes of best success. He will call his paper Glenn's Graphic.

The Kentucky Commercial convention will be held in Louisville May 30 and 31. A profitable and successful convention was held last year and it is hoped more important results will follow this year's meeting. Every town and county should be represented.

The Bee acknowledges the receipt of a copy of Havana's leading newspaper La Lucha, sent by Lieut. Paul P. Price, of the Third Kentucky. Next summer when the days are long and business light the editor will hunt up a Spanish dictionary and take this newspaper to the park.

LIEUT. GOV. Worthington is not granting many pardons these days of his temporary authority in Frankfort. The heart of Gov. Worthington shows signs of having undergone a change since the days when he was first accused of too great leniency. He seems to be "onto the curves" of pardon petitions.

THERE was a quiet, informal celebration of the second anniversary of the inauguration of President McKinley which the country has thus far overlooked. It took the form of an industrial boom under which on the 4th of March more than sixteen thousand workmen employed in iron, steel and cotton mills received notice of a voluntary increase in their wages. The affair was a spontaneous and cheerful recognition of the thoroughness with which the pledges made by the advance agent of prosperity have been fulfilled.—New York Mail and Express.

"We have quit discussing the tariff," said President McKinley at Boston. The necessity has passed. The results of protection leave no room for further discussion. In the words of a prominent manufacturer, recently uttered, "The United States is no longer the world's market—the whole world is now our salesroom." Our labor is employed at better wages than are paid elsewhere on the globe, and is now given constant employment at increasing wages. All this makes the best home market for products of the farm. Notwithstanding the fact that our labor is better paid than in any country, our home industries have been so developed and cost of production so cheapened, that our manufacturers are able to and do now undersell the world.

THE conditions of the country's finances, the rate of wages, the amount of money in circulation per head of population, the state of trade and the demand for American manufactures continue to improve daily and the future outlook is most promising. Still there are demagogues without a battery but the echo of an old bray who feed, in silence mostly, on remnant bits of "embalmed" free-silver-Chicago platform-mule, who will presently trot out their voice and their official appetite and swear by the moon that protection is a failure and the existing gold standard worse than politics or war. Possibly, as the money in circulation has so greatly increased since Bryan and free silver were defeated, these may conclude that it was not more money but less money they wanted.

What it Means.
There's no mistaking the meaning of all these announcements of advances in the wages of the miners the factory operatives. It means that prosperity is really here with both feet.—Boston Herald, (Free-Trade.)

Willie Phillips is expected home from Bowling Green Saturday and will remain here through the spring and part of the summer. Will has made very favorable progress in his stenography, typewriting and school work and has before him promising prospects.

Democracy's Pressing Need.

From the American Economist.
To properly realize the unusual significance of the subjoined quotation from the New York "Evening Post" and the comment following from the Washington "Post," several facts should be kept in mind, as follows:
The Washington "Post" is the great morning paper of the Capital City. It is read daily by every member of Congress, probably without a single exception. It is in complete and close touch with every department of the Government throughout all administrations. It is absolutely independent in the broadest sense of the term. Its owner and editor is the Hon. Beriah Wilkins. He was one of the most prominent Democrats in Ohio and the nation for several years, and is still a Democrat. He was the chairman of the Committee on Banking and Currency in the House of Representatives of the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses. Mr. Wilkins was the author of the editorial comment which follows, and which was published in the Washington "Post" on Wednesday, February 22—a most appropriate date for so thoroughly a patriotic utterance:

A WORD OF EXPLANATION.
President McKinley's address to the Commercial Club in Boston contained a frank announcement that the Protectionist "racket" is played out. "We have quit discussing the tariff," said Mr. McKinley, "and have turned our attention to getting trade wherever it can be found."—New York Evening Post.

Why have we "quit discussing the tariff"? Simply because the "Protectionist racket"—the principle or policy of Protection—has vanquished its opponents. There is not a patch or shred of the old Free-Trade theory, to the advocacy of which the Evening Post gave the best years and ablest efforts of its life, that has not been destroyed by the irresistible force of events. In the last Presidential campaign the Democrats were careful to avoid attacks on Protection. When the Fifty-fifth Congress passed the Dingley Tariff act a godly number of Democrats voted for it, and opposition to it was merely perfunctory. The Free-Trade organs and a few of their disciples in Congress ventured the prediction—the solemn warning—"That the Dingley act would prove fatal to our export trade in manufactures, which had attained some prominence under the Wilson-Gorman law, in spite of the 'perfidy and dishonesty' of that measure. But when that export trade showed an unexpected growth under the conditions which the Free-Traders said would kill it off, the disciples of Calhoun and members of Mill were about ready to give up in despair. One may look through all the political contentions that civilized nations have witnessed since the advent of parties and campaigns without finding any record of a defeat so crushing as the American Free-Traders have suffered, a victory so complete and beneficent as the Protectionists have won.

There will never be another Tariff campaign in the United States. No other President will follow the example of Cleveland in getting Free Trade injected into his understanding and entering upon such a fight as he opened in 1887 and ended with statements of his own party compelled him to desert. Protection has built up our industries one after another, until we are rapidly taking that position in the markets of the world that our chief competitor formerly held. And the "racket" is possibly not "played out" yet. It may be needed to create other new industries, to win other victories like those of silk and tin plate.—Washington "Post."

This is the view of a practical, progressive, up-to-date Democrat. But it is to be feared that there are not enough of his sort to control party councils and avert the folly of attempting to win in 1900 on a Free-Trade and Free-Silver platform: What the Democratic party needs is more men of the Wilkins stamp.

Consolation.
Since THE BEE proof reader let slip a sentence in a recent communication that did not prove a too great familiarity with the ten commandments, there has been some fun abroad in the land. Lawyer Johnson and Joe Mothershead are the only readers yet heard from who were Bible scholars enough to discover the error at a glance and the explanation made by the former is perhaps the most plausible. As a palliation to the offense of the proof reader some inquiry has been instituted to discover the average ability of grown-ups to give in their proper order the ten commandments off hand. Chief Dispatcher Col. Sheridan says he tested twenty-five men (and it was not a crowd of railroaders either), on one occasion, and not one of them could recite the commandments. Among these were some church deacons. A preacher friend says that not one man in a thousand can do it.

Among the amusing things that have occurred through the oversight of proofreaders is one recorded in the last issue of Literature, published by Harper & Bros., and conducted by Mr. John Kendrick Bangs. In this instance Mr. William Dean Howells was made to say that "Washington went and lived in England and on the Continent well-nigh half his life." In explanation Mr. Bangs says: "Mr. Howells of course alluded to Washington Irving, but the familiar typist, who may have known the author of Knickerbocker intimately in youth, chose to drop the Irving and to allude to the fa-

"Out of Sight Out of Mind."

In other months we forget the harsh winds of Spring. But they have their use, as some say, to blow out the bad air accumulated after winter storms and spring thaws. There is far more important accumulation of badness in the veins and arteries of humanity, which needs Hood's Sarsaparilla.

This great Spring Medicine clarifies the blood as nothing else can. It cures scrofula, kidney disease, liver troubles, rheumatism and kindred ailments. Thus it gives perfect health, strength and appetite for months to come.

Kidneys.—"My kidneys troubled me, and on advice I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gave prompt relief, better appetite, my sleep refreshing. It cured my wife also."—MRS. J. B. BOWEN, 343 Denby Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dyspepsia.—"Complicated with liver and kidney trouble, I suffered for years with dyspepsia, with severe pains. Hood's Sarsaparilla made me strong and hearty."—J. B. BOWEN, Main Street, Auburn, Me.

Hip Disease.—"Five running sores on my hip caused me to use crutches. Hood's Sarsaparilla made me strong and hearty."—J. B. BOWEN, Main Street, Auburn, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Never Disappoints.

Hood's Pills cure liver, bile, no irritating and only cathartic to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Gracious Mr. Bryan.
From Louisville Evening Post.
Col. Bryan states that gold standard Democrats must publicly announce their conversion to the principles set forth in the Chicago platform before he will dine with them. But, no doubt, he will kindly allow them to vote for him in 1900, if they are so inclined, without any public confession of faith as to the infallibility of the 1896 Chicago commandments.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Andrew J. Scott, of Frankfort, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General, visited Earlinton and Madisonville this week in the interest of his candidacy. Mr. Scott is said to be a party man from the ground up, but is suspected of Goebel leanings by some Hopkins County Democrats who do not lean that way.

The rumor is renewed that Mr. J. M. Nisbet will probably announce as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Legislature from Hopkins County. A call has been issued for a meeting of the Hopkins County Democratic committee, to be held at the court house Monday April 3.

A Cuban correspondent writes home that Lieut. Col. Jouett Henry, of Hopkinsville, will probably become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor upon his return to Kentucky.

Miss Mamie Sasseen, of Henderson, is among the candidates for the Democratic nomination for State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The Earlinton Public School closes in May.

DOWN IN THE MINES.

The export of coal from Baltimore to Mexico and the West Indies continues heavy. Since January 1, 1899, about 70,000 tons have been shipped to those points. The natives of the Philippine Islands must indeed be an indolent set. There, it is said, veins of good coal from ten to thirty feet in thickness exist. Still thousands of tons of coal are being sent there. American enterprise, pluck and energy is needed to develop the Islands.

Last week the former stock of surplus coke entirely disappeared from the Earlinton coke yard, and for the first time in years no stock coke can be seen there.

Foreman Robinson, of the Empire Company is still unable to resume duty on account of sickness. Few men can boast of more continuous labor than he, and a few weeks' rest will benefit him.

of the mines last week. He is a good miner, when able to do duty.
Soliciting Agent John Hogan, of the Hecla Coal Company, is again out on the road, looking after men who can be induced to buy coal.
Even the few days warm weather of last week had the effect of depressing orders for coal.

An agreement between the miners and operators of Illinois was last week entered into, and peace may be secured for the coming summer.

A vein of coal has been discovered at Preston, Ky., and a company will soon be formed to develop it.

Foreman Toombs and crew have been hard at work the past week or two making more boiler room for the St. Bernard Coal Company.

Several Louisville capitalists have lately formed a company to develop coal mines in Middle Tenn.

In compliance, no doubt, with the wishes of Governor Tanner of Illinois, who is opposed to labor importation from one State to another, it is believed the legislature of that State will pass the bill referred to below:
"Springfield, Ill., March 14.—The House passed today the Drew Bill, designed to prevent the importation of large bodies of laborers from other States, such as was witnessed last year, when negro miners from Alabama were brought to Virden and Pana, precipitating a deadly battle at the former place. Only four negative votes were cast.

The bill punishes deception, false advertising, false pretenses and unlawful force in procuring workmen in other States, or inducing them to change places of employment in this State. It prohibits armed guards protecting imported workmen from coming into this State without the written consent of the Governor.

The House passed Mr. Brown's bill to protect the lives and limbs of miners from the dangers resulting from incompetent miners working in the mines in this State and to provide for the examination of persons seeking employment as miners in the State and to prevent the employment of incompetent persons in coal mines. The bill creates a miners' examining board in each district, and requires coal miners to be examined and procure a certificate of competency.

This clipping from the Nashville American shows what steps are being taken to abate the smoke nuisance:
"The city will soon be treated to an exhibition of a new discovery, known as the Wilson process designed for the burning of soft coal in ordinary boiler furnaces, without producing smoke. This invention has been accomplished by John M. Wilson, of New York, who is in the city. Mr. Wilson says the process is purely a chemical problem and that the union of certain elements is all that is necessary to accomplish it perfectly. If Mr. Wilson's invention does all that is claimed for it, and there seems no doubt about it, it will be recognized as the greatest boon the nineteenth century civilization has received.

"By this method air in conducted to any type of boiler furnaces through pipes leading from a fan. This air is heated in transit and at the other point of the entry which is above the coal bed is combined with a chemical compound solution called pyroblast. The union of the oxygen of the air, the carbon released by the coal, accelerated by the pyroblast, causes the furnace's instant ignition and the sweeping of the coal bed by an incandescent sheet of flame, which takes up the coal distillates fast as decomposed and converts them into carbonic acid gas, which, assisted by hydrogen, yields the highest degree of heat possible from the coal.

"As the combustion is completed entirely within the furnace, no smoke or soot is visible from the chimney. All kinds of coal are susceptible to this treatment and no other machinery or chafing of furnaces is necessary. In ordinary practice smoke is produced by the suffocation of combustion and to the chilling of furnace gases by prolonged opening of furnace doors for coal shoveling. The Wilson process maintains the temperature of furnaces by the combustible blast, which causes a circular movement of the gases instead of in straight lines.

"The process is claimed to be a success, and this, so, it will be of inestimable value to cities which are troubled by the smoke nuisance."

"We had bog and hominy then, with an occasional fat possum, and we were glad to get it. But now it is now, with the railroads built? Why, our farms are worth from $10 to $100 per acre, our women have two pair of shoes apiece, a bonnet with a feather, and we dress 'em in purple and fine linen every day of the week. Yes, we do! Now, if you fellows don't want to use the railroad, just hitch up your mule and the old cow and go any way you want to. But let the railroads alone until you can do what's right. And don't talk to me about the lobby. I stand on my own ground and cover every inch I stand on, and I never saw the day I was afraid of anybody."

The development of the State depends on our railroad lines. Yet not since the war has any period of six years been so barren in railroad building as from 1893 to 1899.

Mr. Goebel believes that he and Mr. McCord should be permitted to run the railroads without consulting with the men who put up the money to build and operate them.

England operates her railroads severely and Europe operates by government rules many of her lines; but wages in America on the railroads are nearly twice as high as in England, and more than twice the wages paid on the railroads of Europe.

In the last bulletin of the United States Department of Labor, Professor Weyl, of the Pennsylvania University, shows that in England the average annual compensation of railroad employees is $91.57, against $54.5 in the United States. As a matter of fact, however, more than 86 per cent. of the 266,000 railway employees in Great Britain and Ireland receive only between $6.08 and $7.30 a week, while only 21 per cent. of our railway employees receive as little as $7 a week.

In the United States the lowest wages paid to any railway employee is $7 a week to such unskilled labor as trackmen, who average about $1.77 a working day, while the lowest rate paid in the United Kingdom for a week's labor is $2.43.

In France more than four-fifths of railway employees receive less than $1 a day, while Belgian railways pay their best grade railway clerks an average of $20.79 per month and employ women as gate keepers at 24 cents a day. On the Prussian State railways the average yearly wages of shop employees and trackmen were $256 and $182 respectively, as compared with $545 for all classes in the United States.—Louisville Post.

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS.

Supervisor Sullivan and men are hustlers when they go to a wreck, as was shown by their quick work last Sunday.

Master of Trains, Devany, on account of exposure, has been confined to his room by sickness several days of late.

The smashing up of several cars was the result of a train breaking into two parts as it came over Henderson bridge last Friday.

The N. C. & St. L. Railroad Company has lately made an order for seven locomotives from the Baldwin Locomotive Works at Philadelphia.

An order for twenty locomotives was recently given the Brooks Locomotive Co., at Demark, N. Y., by the Illinois Central Railroad Company.

Dispatcher Nick Walker has been on the sick list for the past week, and Dispatcher Neal has been taking care of the second trick on the Henderson division.

Superintendent Martin, Assistant Superintendent Mann and Chief Dispatcher Sheridan were at the wreck Sunday, doing all in their power to facilitate the clearing of the track.

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad is shipping large quantities of cattle from Nashville to Havana, Cuba.

Agent D. M. Woodbridge, at Madisonville, has rented and will occupy the residence property recently vacated by Mr. W. L. Gordon, on Seminary street, one square west of the depot.

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 20.—The $20,000 damage suit of Carey Wallace's administrator against the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company was thrown out of court to-day on a demurrer.

Mrs. Cook, the only lady operator on the Henderson division, after having suffered a suspension for making a mistake in connection with a train order, has been reinstated, and is again at work as night operator at Crofton.

Gus McVay, who is looking after important business for Superintendent of Building Hindman, who is sick, was here last week making plans in connection with the tearing down and rebuilding of round house and other building here.

The Chicago and Alton requires forty new freight and passenger locomotives to replace some of the worn-out equipment. It is said that the new company will ask for bids for thirty more, in order to place the road in good shape with first-class motive power.

Without any accountable reason it does seem that streaks of bad luck do sometimes follow railroading, as has been observed of late on the Henderson division.

For the last few weeks an unusual number of wrecks have occurred on the Henderson division and the most serious effect has been the injury done engines. A number of them had to be sent to the shop and thousands of dollars and much time will be required to again get them ready for duty. Last Sunday morning the breaking of an eccentric on an engine caused the engineer to stop his train in a bad place on a curve and down grade, and the result was that after an hour's work trying to patch up engine so as to be able to proceed to next station, another engine and train dashed into his train and as a consequence another engine was badly used up, while the loss of freight was small.

The Missouri legislature has of late been wrestling with the question of reducing the passenger fare to two cents per mile, but the large petition of railroad employees who could see in it a final reduction of wages, prevented the bill from passing. We here give the readers a portion of a speech made on the question, as it appeared in the Globe Democrat:

"Cyclone" Jones, of Howell, made the speech of the day, and captured the House. He recalled the good old days in 'the blue jeans country,' when there were no railroads, and the women went barefooted most of the time to save the only pair of shoes they had. In those days farm land sold for $1 an acre, and the farmer thanked Providence if he was so fortunate as to own a mule and a cow. He would hitch them up and go sixty miles for a barrel of salt, taking his entire family and camping on the road.

"We had bog and hominy then, with an occasional fat possum, and we were glad to get it. But now it is now, with the railroads built? Why, our farms are worth from $10 to $100 per acre, our women have two pair of shoes apiece, a bonnet with a feather, and we dress 'em in purple and fine linen every day of the week. Yes, we do! Now, if you fellows don't want to use the railroad, just hitch up your mule and the old cow and go any way you want to. But let the railroads alone until you can do what's right. And don't talk to me about the lobby. I stand on my own ground and cover every inch I stand on, and I never saw the day I was afraid of anybody."

I can sleep soundly and my appetite is excellent. I can recommend Plaster's Nubian Tea to the world as being a God-send to any community. Any one who doubts this statement can write OUSCAR BAKER. Mr. Green was a talented writer and a critic of literature and art.

It is very hard to stand idly by and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor. An Albany (N. Y.) dairyman called at a druggist's store and doctor to come and see his child, then very sick with croup. Not finding the doctor in, he left word for him to come at once on his return. He also bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which he hoped would give some relief until the doctor should arrive. In a few hours he returned saying the doctor need not come, as the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Scholz, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their neighbors and friends until he has a constant demand for it from that part of the country. Sorry to hear of the gas explosion at Nortonville, for it must be that Clinker and Jonah were both blown to atoms as they constitute the gaseous element of the town.

The little town of Red Hill is situated in Christian County about five miles east of the city of Mannington on the mail route running from White Plains to Wynne's P. O. It is located on a lovely knoll which overlooks miles of beautiful country and rich flowing meadows dotted with countless herds of short horn cattle, thoroughbred horses and Berkshire pigs.

The town at present contains only one general store, a post office and an electric blacksmith shop which rivals the shops of St. Louis in magnitude of structure and thoroughness of equipment.

Mr. M. Dukes, our merchant, is a promising young business man who was formerly in business at White Plains, but decided to cast his lot among the good citizens of Red Hill and accordingly moved here. He is highly recommended and will likely by all who know him. Red Hill community is chock full of good farmers and a few days spent among them is a delight not soon to be forgotten.

Literary Notes.

In the April issue of HARPER'S MAGAZINE appears the first installment of a serial by H. B. Mariot Watson, who made his reputation as a novelist by the publication of "Galloping Dick." The serial is entitled "The Princess Xenia," and is fully illustrated by T. de Thulstrup. Henry Cabot Lodge, in Part III, of the "History of the Spanish-American War," discusses the blockade of Cuba and the pursuit of Cervera. The illustrations which accompany this article are alone worth the price of the magazine. Other war articles of exceptional interest are "The Trial of the Oregon," by Rear-Admiral L. A. Beardslee, U. S. N.; "The Rescue of Admiral Cervera," by Peter Keller, an American Jacky, and "Honor to whom Honor is Due," by R. F. Zogbaum. Among the special articles are "Aspects of Rome," by Arthur Symonds; "Cromwell and His Court," by Amelia Barr; "The Apo of Death," by Andrew Wilson; and "The Equipment of the Modern City House," by Russell Sturgis.

The report that Mr. L. W. Rice contemplates moving to St. Charles is without foundation. His home will remain here, where are his business and social interests.

Coughed 25 Years. I suffered for 25 years with a cough, and spent hundreds of dollars with doctors and for medicine to no avail until I used Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. This remedy makes weak lungs strong. It has saved my life.—J. B. Rosell, Grantburg, Ill.

Meekison of Ohio

Has Been Greatly Benefited by Pe-ru-na.

Congressman D. Meekison of Ohio, writes the following letter to Dr. Hartman.

Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, O.

DEAR SIR:—I have used several bottles of Pe-ru-na and feel greatly benefited thereby. I have been afflicted

Postmaster Robinson says the man was from the Silent Run country, and upon the heels of this follows the announcement that a new schoolhouse is to be built in the Silent Run district.
